Behind the Red Door: Unlock Your Advocacy Influence and Success is an excellent read for anyone who wants to run a successful organization. In particular it helps one understand why advocacy is such a vital tool. In this book Moore employs Feng Shui, a Chinese ancient philosophy now used religiously by many business leaders, in her approach. The red door allows chi (energy or spirit) to enter the house (or the business). Then the author walks readers through an analysis of advocacy, including building an advocacy-plan framework, to create and develop a brand, build and mobilize internal and external stakeholders, use social media, deal with crisis communications, and finally, to measure results. I highly recommend Behind the Red Door.
